Seeks "True Canada Spirit"

Ex-Minister Regrets Action Of Government in Spy Probe

By D'ARCY O'DONNELL

OTTAWA, March 22.—(CP)—Hon. C. G. Power, Liberal member of parliament for Quebec, said last night in the Commons he regretted that a "precedent" had been established in the Soviet spy inquiry and called upon Canadians to cast off their "sectionalism" and develop a "true Canadian spirit."

RISING during the Thorne Speech debate to speak to a quietly attentive house, Mr. Power said he would "freely admit" that in the public mind the government was doing the "absolutely right thing" in its conduct of the Royal commission inquiry.

But, he added, he could not help but feel that 50 years ago, when the peoples were fighting for their rights and freedom, it would have been "more difficult for the government to proceed as it has done."

"Today, there was an idea that 'no must fight with fire'."

Never in peacetime, in the Dominion had there ever been legislation such as the order-in-council passed by the government for the detection and interrogation of the spy suspects.

MR. POWER, former minister for air who left the cabinet in 1941 during the conscription crisis, said he knew Prime Minister Mackenzie King well, had worked with him for years, understood his feelings about the liberties of the people.

Whole World Our Market

If Real Enterprise Shown

MONTREAL, March 22.—(CP)—Trade Minister MacKinnon said in an address here last night "the whole world is our market if only we have the enterprise to go out and get the business."

In a speech before the Canadian Inter-American Association, he warned that "what is done in the immediate future will fix the pattern of our commercial relations for a long time to come."

He outlined four main principles. First, he should take a full share in supplying the world's demand for raw materials. Second, he must keep his place in the British market. Third, inter markets must be found. Fourth, these objectives could be achieved if business was prepared to give increased emphasis to the importance of export trade, no longer regarded as a necessary evil but to the domestic market.

His department was working "earnestly and continuously" to reduce the number and severity of export controls.

Goods sold abroad "should be of the highest possible quality." Finally, Canadian business "should enlarge its trading representation."

THE PRESENT ROLE of government in trade was a "temporary expedient," he said, and the establishment of free conditions of world trade with full scope for the initiative of the individual trader.

His department was bearing an increased responsibility in working out the supply programs for countries in Europe and the Far East.

But we will fall short of our national objective if industry fails to aim high and does not pursue a vigorous expansion program of its own.

Turning to Latin America, the minister said there was no doubt that Canada's trade there could be greatly expanded.

NEW HOUSING PLAN Starts at Coast

VANCOUVER, March 22.—(CP)—Housing Enterprises of Canada Ltd. announced yesterday a new type rental-housing project in which priority will be given to veterans with children and then to civilian families with children.

Tenders will be called next week and the project to Vancouver will be extended later through new sites expected to house an aggregate of 200 families.

Free Planting Car On Tour Next Week

WINNIPEG, March 22.—(CP)—Early next week the Canadian Forestry Association's self-contained theatre will chug out of Winnipeg on its 26th annual nine-month tour of the prairie provinces.

Known as the "tree planting car," lectures will be given at every stop designed to outline the advantages of planting trees and the structure in the best methods.

Directed by the C.P.R. the car is moved by the Canadian Pacific and Canadian National railways.

During 1945 the car covered 1,247 miles, conducted 255 meetings with total attendance of 40,742 persons, and during its 25 years of operation has travelled 125,000 miles while playing to over a million people.

KENTVILLE, N.S., March 22.—(CP)—A student of Acadia University, Fred Prince had only five hours that flying instructor when he took a plane up on a solo flight yesterday.

He set a record for solo flying, did not need further lessons.

Grass Fires Set By East Children

TORONTO, March 22.—(CP)—Authorities yesterday blamed spring fever for more than 40 grass fires they said were set by children in the suburban area.

The grass fires occur annually but figures report more than usual this year "because the weather was so early."

Clear titles to veterans of the First Great War who still owed money and land bought under the old Soldiers' Settlement Act.

He asked that the government provide for an old age pension of $50 for everyone 60 years and over without a means test.

Bona Arsenault, independent member for the Quebec constituency of Bonaventure, suggested that retention of the full-sized Union Jack as a symbol of partnership in the Commonwealth need not interfere with the choice of a distinctive national flag for Canada, and suggested that:

1. The full-sized Union Jack be retained as the symbol of partnership in the Commonwealth.

2. A flag, fully representative of Canada, be chosen as the national emblem.

3. That the Red Ensign be used as Canada's naval ensign, the purpose for which it was originally created.

Seeks Irrigation For Prairie Area

OTTAWA, March 22.—(CP)—A government policy of irrigation in the prairie "dust bowl" was urged in the senate yesterday by Senator F. W. Genshaw (Liberal) in a three-page address.

Expenditure of government capital on irrigation schemes would be repaid in increased production and by new taxation areas.

In 59 years, the average rainfall in the east was between 35 and 40 inches and in the west it was 14 and 15 inches.

Irrigation of 2,000,000 acres would do much to raise the grain value of an adjoining 12,000,000. Where 40-50 acres were now used for one or two, the same area could be used for four or five. Uncollected taxes would drop; relief would go down; people would stop leaving the prairies.

Sees Three Roads For Canadians

Mr. E. B. Thurston, Social Credit MLA for Cypress, Thursday evening told a meeting of 100 members of the Associated Farmers and Growers of the "three roads" which he said were:

1. The "road of the present time," leading to economic bankruptcy; the "socialist" road, leading to dictatorship of finance and regulation of the people's rights and actions; and the "social Credit road," leading to economic security without financial domination.

Dealing with the latter, the speaker outlined the credit structure of a country, which under the doctrine he upheld would be controlled by the people through their representative assembly.

THE MEETING was held in the Social Credit hall under chairmanship of Mr. W. Williams, vice-president of the evening's program.

During the evening's program, Mr. Williams had been president for more than six years.

He was replaced by Thomas Housley, continuing as vice-president in Everett Wickens.

Musical entertainment was contributed by C. M. Alma, piano-accompanist.

Signs of Spring

The first official day of spring has come and once bringing warm sunshine and a trace of that vintage something in the air which is not so much a message to the senses as a message to the heart.

The first robin was reported some days ago. The first butterfly has been seen gallantly fluttering on a back porch. Even the first dandelion has been welcomed with such a burst of enthusiasm that it is probable that definitely that which is a thing of beauty now need not necessarily be a joy forever.

In brief, Edmonton looks, feels and smells like spring. But it is not only the weather and feel and smell that mark the arrival of the vernal season. There is another quality which offers far more substantial evidence of the change that has come over the earth. It is a quality, we think, of men's minds.

A month ago, and even less, the world was in a turmoil of apprehension over many things. The sinister power of atomic energy, the activities of spies, the uncertain ambitions of restless nations, the famine in Europe and shortages at home and abroad—all these had induced a state of mind not far short of despair.

None of these things are less dangerous today than they were four weeks ago. But there is less worrying about them. People take them just as seriously as they ever did.
But there is a more confident attitude about hazards may be controlled and overcome.
The truth is that spring has stepped into the world picture, and the spirit of spring is the spirit of courage and of hope.

"Import and Prosper"

"Exports are not primarily a part of the Canadian economy. It is imports we should think of first."

This arresting and apparently heretical statement is from an address by Dr. Allan
M. McLean, general manager of Connors & Sons, Ltd., when he received an honorary doctorate from the University of McGill. Dr. McLean bases this striking belief on the fact that it is a mistake to sell abroad goods which we can use at home for the mere opportunity of building up trade which is optimistically called a "favorable balance of trade." He contends that Canada should use surplus production for exchange and not to create debt claims.

"All production," he says, "should be designed to fill our domestic needs. Foreign trade should be planned to bring in wealth we cannot produce or produce as well as we can the surplus commodities we give in exchange."

It is true that the Canadian people are the first charge on the economy of Canada, although famine in Europe may have established a temporary exception to this general principle on humanitarian grounds. As a general thing, however, Canadians should look after the home market first and labor should be employed to the utmost to provide the foods and commodities essential to a good living.

We must have lumber, minerals, wheat, beef, fish, potatoes, bacon, pork and many other goods. These should be provided in full measure for our own market first and labor a full production which is the only source of wealth.

The physical distribution of these goods is not difficult in this power age. The financial distribution may require some modernization. There should be sufficient purchasing power distributed to the market first and labor will be available for every citizen.

But there are goods that Canada cannot produce. Oranges and other fruit, tea, coffee and other necessities and luxuries must be brought from abroad if we are to have a high standard of living.

These things, however, should not be bought for the mere purpose of trade balance. They should be bought, first, to maintain a living standard, and secondly, as a means of using our surplus and thus keeping up domestic production.

For, manage our money as we will, it cannot buy these imports for us. Only goods will pay for imports.

As Dr. McLean says, we should survey our goods and find out surplus and then make trade treaties with nations that need these goods. Our exports may then provide us with the finest goods produced in other parts of the world without the creation of an unpayable debt on either side of the transactions.

Based on the fundamental economic fact that only production and work can create national wealth, this analysis by Dr. McLean is worthy of most careful consideration.

What Is the Council For?

Moscow wanted the Security Council to postpone meeting for sixteen days while it continued to negotiate with Iran.

This could be construed as an invitation to the Council to stand by while Russian aggression and armed forces coerced Iran into submission or ousted the present government and set up one which would hand over whatever Moscow wants. That is how the Tehran authorities have interpreted the proposal.

Whatever justice or injustice is involved in the Russian claims on Iran, the request that the Council postpone meeting in the circumstances would set a dangerous precedent. It would in effect establish the rule that whenever a great power has a quarrel with a small one it can tell the Security Council to mark time on that and all other subjects until the larger disputant gives the word.

Because the Security Council is to meet on Monday it does not follow that the Iran dispute will take up the agenda for a reasonable cause for delay is shown, that item on the agenda can be set back.

But to say that the Council should not meet just because one party to a controversial dispute does not want it to discuss the issue for a while is something very different.
Run on those lines the Council would lose respect, and deserve to be small and weak.
To speedily draw the conclusion that the Council would cease to function altogether when one of the states complained that the powerful neighbor was putting pressure on it.

Lehman Has to Quit

After reading what he said at Atlantic City, no one can be surprised that Herbert H. Lehman is retiring from the post of director-general of the United Nations. It is quitting because his health has broken down.

The man who resigned the governorship of the state of New York to take the job of saving Europe from starvation said the other day that it is possible now only to relieve world famine, not to prevent it. No wonder the chief executive of the United Nations organization feels that he cannot stand the strain of the months to come, when nothing more can be hoped for than that the number of hunger-victims can be kept down.

To accomplish this possible post-success
Mr. Lehman advises the nations to aim at maximum food production this year, to conserve and otherwise conserve food, even to slaughter livestock in order to save cereals for human consumption. For while the crisis in Europe will be reached at mid-summer, there will, he says, be barely half enough food to go round "next year."

It is possible, fortunately, that this prediction may be wrong. It is possible that the situation will be a year from now.
The reproductive capacity of nature in a normal year is such that it can keep up with demand, and never were people the world around under such strong impulsion to make this the greatest food-producing year of all time. Good crops everywhere could brighten the outlook for "next year."

But to "reduce" world famine during this present year nothing can be done but to conserve food and to make sure that it is shared to the areas of want—which exist now in India and China as well as in Europe.
What Mr. Lehman has to say about the urgency of doing this is emphasized by the fact that worry and dread over what can't be prevented have made it impossible for him to carry on.

That may be so, but it is true that they showed no reluctance to trade with the Red Army soldiers, they were friendly with them, and here and there a jaunty young Red Army man, pleased with a little thing, is in reality a great harrier market. By the early hours of the morning the traders have begun to gather between the Reichstag and the Brandenburg Gate, and the Brandenburg Gate. By afternoon it has swelled into thousands.

The crowd grows bigger. Partly because everyone in it is a little bit of a trader, and partly because they are all looking for a way to get out of the country. They are all looking for a way to get out of the country. They are all looking for a way to get out of the country.

THIS CAUSED REACTION. No one ever sees the military installations of the Red Army. These are not visible to tourists. But what was visible was an issue of new uniforms had been badly worn. The quality, however, was poor. The material was shoddy.

PERSISTENCE pays, evidently is the slogan of Edmonton All-Stars. In any event, sheer determination paid off at the Arena here Thursday night and today Jimmie Graham and his Independent league are packing their bags for Vernon, next stop along the Western Canada intermediate hockey trail.

With only minutes left in the third period and the count 2-0 against them, the outlook was anything but rosy for the All-Stars in the rubber affair with Winnipeg's Jack Kings. However, with Louis Holmes doing most of the urging, the boys kept punching away, with the tempo of the effort increasing as seconds passed.

Eventually one-then-two and finally into overtime, 20 minutes of hockey later, the All-Stars won. Today Edmonton has a second contender for the Western Canada hockey honors. It was a great win, and Louis Holmes was chiefly responsible. Five points in five goals makes it just about unanimous.

COACH EARL ROBERTSON brought his Canadians home this morning and present indications are the western junior final series will commence here in a week with Winnipeg Monarchs as opposition. Last night's loss left Port Arthur Flyers two games down, handicap they will have difficulty in overcoming.

That four to one verdict over Moose Jaw gave Canadians five wins, a tie and one loss in seven games with the Canucks this season. Seems pretty convincing.

Pony Line Tethered Canadiens Outfoot Hawks For Second Playoff Win

MONTREAL, March 22.—(AP)—Playing the brand of hockey that helped them outpower Chicago Black Hawks here last Tuesday, the fast skating Montreal Canadiens again skated rings around Hawks Thursday night to defeat their opponents 5-1 and take a 2-0 lead in their best-of-seven semi-final Stanley Cup series.

Hawks played more determined hockey than in their first playoff contest but could not capitalize on their scoring chances and in the time again fumbled golden opportunities with sloppy passing plays.

Goalie Mike Karas turned back some smoking shots but was definitely weaker than in his last game, and he looked shaky on some of the shots that got by him.

THE MAX BENTLEY will Mostenko-Doug Bentley Jr. again squared off against Billy Hayes, Murph Chamberlain and Jimmy Peters of Canadiens and figured to be more prominent than in the last game. They moved at good speed all night long but were tied up by steady back-checking on the part of the Montreal trio whenever they approached the Habitation.

Canadiens sailed in front at 6:40. In the initial period when Bobby Filion drove a hard shot past Karas. Exactly two minutes later Jimmy Peters shot Canadiens into a more comfortable lead when he sank a relay off the stick of Billy Hayes. Maurice Richard made it 3-0 scoring in his own habitual spectacular way after a solo dash from the Chicago blue line.

HAWKS BROKE into the scoring column in the dying minutes of the frame when Clint Smith fired a long shot past Goalie Bill Duran while Johnny Martucci, Joe Cooper, Murph Chamberlain and Richard were occupying the cooler.

Both squads featured tight hockey again in a monotonous final period when Canadiens again broke through for the sole tally of the tie frame. Jimmy Peters scored his second goal of the night to convert a play engineered by Murph Chamberlain. Hawks snatched Canadiens 1-0 in the last frame.

Three-Club City League Likely Baseball Setup

A three-club league appears to be the setup for senior baseball in Edmonton during the coming summer. At least that seemed to be the consensus of opinion at the preliminary meeting held at The Barn on Thursday night.

Applications for three teams were presented, the clubs being South Side, Canadian Legion and Dodgers, represented respectively by Wally Aldridge, Jack McLean and Cal Pickles.

ARROWS will not operate a senior club this year but will again be in the junior circuit. A further meeting has been called for next Monday, but in the meantime further applications for the Western Canada intermediate title at Vernon next week.

Jimie Graham, whose Edmonton All-Stars defeated Winnipeg Jack Kings 5-4 after 20 minutes overtime here Thursday night, says Vernon leaders are most on the list. Jimmie's Independent series for the Western Canada intermediate title at Vernon next week.

Bombers Announce Jack West Coach

WINNIPEG, March 22.—(CP)—First step in reorganizing senior hockey in Winnipeg was announced Thursday by A. U. Chipman, club president, who said that Jack West, alibi director and football coach at the University of North Dakota, has been appointed coach of the Blue Bombers.

West signed a five-month contract under which he will come here for a month in May for preliminary practices and four months during the regular football season.

WHILE WINNIPEG is the only western outfit to thus far disclose rebuilding plans, it is expected the annual meeting of the Western Interprovincial Rugby Union, Regina Sunday will uncover league plans and action by other clubs in preparation for next season.

Bill D. (Pitts) Taylor, president of the Canadian Rugby Union, said last fall he would like to see a strong five-team circuit operating in Western Canada, and there appears to be a strong possibility of a league comprising Calgary, Edmonton, Regina, Winnipeg and Vancouver.

Cleveland Ousts Providence 5-2

CLEVELAND, March 22.—(AP)—Cleveland Barons clinched one of the third-place playoffs of the American Hockey League Thursday night before 10,827 fans by beating Providence Reds for the second straight time, with centre Tommy Burlington contributing three goals to the 5-2 score.

Barons shut out Reds 2-0 in the first period, the other two periods being 3-0 and 0-0. The deciding game will be played here Saturday, with the winner to meet Cleveland in a semi-final best-of-three series.

A crowd of 5,000 jammed the stands to watch the Hornets take the offensive after sporting the goals a goal, and hold it through the rough, hard-fought contest. Wally Pittsburgh's high point-maker during the regular season, Norm Latson, ran up in the league's point scoring race, made one of Hershey's tallies and Frank Mario contributed the other. Kibby, Walton, Metz and O'Flaherty also scored for the Hornets.

Hornets Defeat Hershey Beers

PITTSBURGH, March 22.—(AP)—Pittsburgh Hornets evaded the American Hockey League second-place playoff series Thursday night by winning a 6-2 decision over Hershey Beers in the second game of the best-of-three series.

The players are: Forwards, Syl Apps, Gage Stewart, Billy Stryker, Bud Polk and Bill Etmink; defencemen, Bob Goldham, goalie Turk Broda.

Fla-Mors Beaten

PORT WORTH, March 22.—(CP)—Goals by Edy Kobussen and Bill Smith in the 14th minute of the third period kept Port Worth club defeated by the Maritime champions 8-1 in the first round, or eastern Canada quarter-finals, of the Allan Cup playoffs.

The second game will be played here Saturday, with a third, if necessary, scheduled for Monday.

Hollywood Still In Coast Series

HOLLYWOOD, Calif., March 22.—(CP)—Hollywood Wolves displayed a sharp reversal of form Thursday night to defeat the Los Angeles Monarchs 7-3 and prolong the southern division playoffs for the Pacific Coast Hockey League. Los Angeles were the first two of the best-of-five series.

Fourth game will be played Saturday night.

Hollywood checked furiously throughout and held the Monarchs scoreless until midway through the first period.

Blind Bellinger, with three, Joe Peterson, Mancuso and Joe Archambault scored for Hollywood. Johnny Richardson and Nick Evanshen counted for Los Angeles.

Name Interim Committee Plan Senior Football Club For Edmonton Next Fall

Meeting in the Civic Block under the chairmanship of M. I. Lieberman, KC, a representative group of city football enthusiasts took the initial steps Thursday night toward fielding a senior Edmonton grid team next fall.

An interim executive was named and a further meeting will be called immediately following the Western Interprovincial Rugby Union conference which will be held in Regina on Sunday.

DEAN GRIFFING, former Regina Roughriders and who is now residing in Calgary, attended the meeting here Thursday and will represent Edmonton as well as the Football club's club at Regina.

It is expected a league consisting of Regina, Calgary and Edmonton will result from the Sunday meeting but in any event, senior teams will operate in both Calgary and Edmonton this coming fall.

Competition in a circuit which includes the Winnipeg Blue Bombers is definitely out, the intention being to utilize only such home talent as may be available with no imports.

ANY PLAYERS in the city who may be interested are asked to contact Jerry Straight at phone 2648. A complete slate of officers will be elected at the next meeting, the senior as follows:

The ROAD AHEAD

By HARPER PROWSE, M.L.A.

DURING the war there were few citizens who shirked any of their duties, or who were unwilling to make any of the sacrifices necessary to insure that the "boys at the front get all the equipment they require to fight efficiently." Yet now there are relatively few people who are showing much concern over the fact that many of the men, recently returned and discharged from the services, are unable to find employment.

He formed in the north before the war.

Legislation Passed In Committee Stage

Twenty-four bills went through committee of the whole assembly in the Legislature Thursday afternoon, and four others were given second reading. Only one bill of the group which was introduced by the government was held and progress reported on.

Among bills to receive endorsement of the committee was an amendment to the Education Act which would give the Edmonton City Charter. To this one the voice of W. Williams (Veteran-Edmonton) was right, the Mr. Taylor is not convinced and when he reads a resolution which asks him to take action contrary to what he regards as right in the realm of finance, that resolution is destined for the waste-basket.

Other bills which were given third reading and now require only Royal Assent to become law. They were: Amendments to the Oil and Gas Act; amendments to the Old Age Pension Act; amendments to the Old Age Pensions Act (Supplementary); and an Act for the Protection of Game.

Isley Persuasion Is "Waste of Time"

Branding as a waste of time any efforts to persuade Hon. J. L. Isley, Dominion Finance Minister, to use the national credit to reduce income taxes, J. Harper Prowse (Army) in the Legislature Thursday moved an amendment to the amendment on a resolution which requests a relaxation of income tax controls on the farmers.

THOSE WHO BELIEVE in Social Credit theories have ample opportunities to convince the people of Canada that their theories are right, the Mr. Isley is not convinced and when he reads a resolution which asks him to take action contrary to what he regards as right in the realm of finance, that resolution is destined for the waste-basket.

The original motion had suggested that income tax for farmers be based on a sliding scale, but the amendment proposed by Mr. Prowse would include all income taxes on workers. He suggested that the farmer is not the only person who suffers a fluctuating income, and instanced the case of a worker who suffers a fluctuating income for themselves in the near future.

MR. PROWSE QUOTED from Beardsley Ruml, "high priest of orthodox finance", to prove his point that income taxes are not collected for revenue purposes but for the purpose of maintaining dollar values.

He suggested that the finance minister should be approached from that angle rather than from a political and economic point of view which was foreign to him. C. I. Savers (S.C.—Camrose) regarded as particularly hard on the farmer, the arrangement which made him collect the income tax due from his hired men. Savers said that those who do deduct income tax payments from their hired men are likely to lose their help.

INCOME TAXES have reached a point where they are restricting production, Mr. Savers said. A farmer is not likely to do the overtime work necessary to produce butter if he knows that the profit is going to be taken from him in taxes.

Hon. Lucien Maynard, K.C., attorney-general, moved amendment to the whole house, with a suggestion that other amendments might be found which would be satisfactory to the whole house, but since house rules did not permit a further amendment, he would discuss the resolution at a later date.

I Saw Today

Food, and the advantages of owning one's own home formed the basis of two addresses Thursday by Rotarians by Ralph E. Lloyd and George Prudham, members of the Rotary Spokes Club, at the club's regular dinner meeting in the Macdonald hotel.

MR. PRUDHAM delineated the history of man from early times and showed that the urge to build was inherent and natural. He brought the subject up to the present housing situation and stated that present day costs were high in comparison with those in the period of Canada's last peak year before the depression.

At that time, said Mr. Prudham, an average small home cost about $1300 to build as against $670 today, representing a difference of nearly 100 per cent.

For that extra amount, there were many advantages in construction that did not exist in 1929, and that when the situation was analyzed the additional cost over 1929 was well warranted.

HE WARNED, however, that great care should be exercised in any building program today to see that proper methods and materials were used in building, otherwise building was going on now might within 30 years time deteriorate into slums.

Canada, United States, Australia and New Zealand, enjoy the highest standard of living of any of the world's nations. Mr. Lloyd stated, as the speaker of the day.

Food for devastated nations was one of the greatest problems facing the nations of the world today and with the great productive capacity of the aforementioned countries it was up to them to do their part in relieving the stricken areas.

As with individuals, nations that are strong and healthy, are strong and healthy.

Taylor Champions Teachers' Rights

Teachers without university degrees who might be discharged without due cause were successfully defended in the Legislature Thursday by Gordon Taylor (S.C.—Drumheller), while members were considering amendments to the School Act.

THE CLAUSE TO WHICH Mr. Taylor objected included the replacement of a teacher by one of high qualifications under the heading of "retirement of educational qualifications." When the bill had come up for second reading Mr. Taylor had attacked this clause vigorously and when the objectionable clause was brought before the committee of the whole assembly he renewed his onslaught. Members of the house agreed with the Drumheller member and the offending clause was removed from the act.

Hon. R. Earl Anley, minister of education, said that the amendment had been suggested by the trustees' association and at the time he had seen no objection to it.

However, he also reported that the Alberta Teachers' Association had feared the clause since it might be used to their serious disadvantage. He would make any recommendation to house though he suggested that it would be to the advantage of school pupils if the trustees were allowed to better the quality of teachers.

THE MINISTER thought the objection might be covered by adding an amendment to the effect that those "who by virtue of superior qualifications or professional record might be expected to render more effective service."

Mr. Taylor blasted this suggestion, labelling it a move around the neck of those without high qualifications which some would not hesitate to pull.

Premier Ernest Manning suggested

ed that it was not wise at the moment to change the legislation. The amendment to the act was deleted when members voted.

MR. TAYLOR ALSO WON his point and a little more when he requested that a vice-principal be appointed in schools of 15 or more rooms. He found support for his arguments from teachers on both sides of the house and his suggestion that a vice-principal be appointed for 15-room schools was bettered to the extent that when the new amendment comes into effect any school with ten or more teachers will have a vice-principal.

The Drumheller member's fight for increased indemnity for trustees was not so well received.

Speaking for the miners of Drumheller, Mr. Taylor pointed out that when a miner was elected to school board and attended meetings of the board he was only paid $6 for each attendance, while he lost a day's pay in the mine, which might amount to $10 or $12.

He felt this was most unfair and suggested an additional clause in the School Act which would permit a school board by resolution to authorize the payment to trustees of the amount of money that might have been made by the trustee if he had remained on the job.

THIS SUGGESTION was sharply attacked by D. Ure (S.C.—Red Deer) who suggested that it involved a dangerous principle.

"Suppose," he suggested, "you had a lawyer on the board who was making $100 a day."

When members voted at the suggestion the Red Deer member replied "I purposely kept it down to a low figure."

R. D. Jorgensen (S.C.—Pembina) called the plan both impractical and unworkable after he had told the house that he too was trustee.

ONE OF THE EXECUTIVES of the Alberta Teachers' Association, E. C. Helms (S.C.—Warner) said that the amount that was paid at present was sufficient for any man who was interested in education.

Speaking for himself, he said "I will not accept more."

ment treasury with your taxes and money. They are men who have been denied their civilian opportunities because they have been in uniform for the purpose of defending this country and all the people in this country.

HAD THERE NOT been a war, of this country and the people of this country and bear arms in time of danger, most of them would have been well established in civilian jobs today. It would be a pity to see them in this country were ever to forget that fact. But today there is a growing tendency for people to overlook it.

Those men saw the sacrifices this country and the people of this country were willing to make when their safety was at stake. They remember the promises that were made to them that "this time" there would be jobs and homes and opportunities waiting for them. They recall that the best wasn't quite good enough for them, so far as the citizens of this country were concerned, when there was some fighting—and some dying—to be done.

LIKE KIPLING'S "Tommy Atkins" they recall that it was "special trains for Atkins when the troops are on the tide." They had lots of friends in the troubled days. Kipling said of his "Tommy," "But Tommy's not a bloomin' fool—y' see, but Tommy's a bloomin' fool—y' see. And our fellows aren't bloomin' fools either. They see. They see a lot of things."

If this country were to become involved in another war tomorrow the citizens of this country would once again repeat all that he outlined the history of a discharged school district secretary to the house, claiming in effect that he had been improperly dismissed from his appointment and asking the government's explanation of the occurrence.

Hon. R. Earl Anley asked that the bill be reported as the hour was getting late and undertook to explain the circumstances of the case at the next sitting of the committee.

WHEN THE COMMITTEE came to a halt to amend the Public Works Act, a clause which debared excavations near telephone or power lines was wiped out. This was at the suggestion of the president of the Alberta Association of Municipal Districts, J. M. McArthur (S.C.—Chapman).

Another section of the bill was amended so that a ditch or drain may not be constructed within one hundred feet of the centre line of a highway without the written consent of the minister.

old phrases. Once again it would be a case of "good boys our boys" and "Nothing is too good for our boys" and "Everything we have we owe to fellows like you," and all the rest of the things which people said, and thought they meant, when the recruiting was going full blast.

THIS COUNTRY would not hesitate to call once more on the services of the men and women of this country. Citizens would once more dig deep into the savings accounts to buy bonds—10 buy bonds, and planes and guns and all the materials of war. And our fellows know all this too.

Right now these same men, to whom so much was promised, are asking for just one thing—an opportunity which will permit them to become useful citizens of Canada. They want a chance to enjoy the fruits of the victory which they fought so hard to gain. They want to be self-supporting citizens—not a drain on the taxpayers. They want to be as proud of themselves as civilians as they were when they marched down the street on their way to the station when they were going away—as they were when they marched down the street the day they came back.

RIGHT NOW they are wondering where the people who cheered them on their way, and cheered them on their return, have disappeared to. They are wondering where the opportunities they were promised so glibly have gone. They are wondering when they will be able to get a job.

Supernumerary R. H. Darling, RCMP, provincial social commissioner, told members of the Lions club that the formative years of a juvenile were precious treasures in that what the child absorbed during them largely governed the type of citizen he or she would be at maturity.

AS ONE OF THE MOST effective influences toward exemplary citizenship Supr. Darling advocated membership in the Boy Scouts' Association.

There was no influence as effective as the home and the parents, however, and it was there that an atmosphere of harmony, tolerance and understanding would do more than anything else to build good Canadian citizens.

The committee does feel that the board is handicapped by the lack of statistical data and suggests that there is a broad field for research in this field. Practical suggestions as to the location of experimental plots are made in the report.

Adoption of the report will be moved later by Mr. Ure.

Child Delinquency Fault of Parents

Two prominent members of law enforcement circles Thursday expressed similar views in that the fault, and oftentimes the cause, of juvenile delinquency can be ascribed almost entirely to adults, the home life and the general conception of morality.

ADDRESSING THE Optimists club, Judge C. L. Willis, of the Juvenile Court, said, "In many cases that come before me I have found that society as a whole is more delinquent than the juvenile in question."

He named the home and community as definite influences that helped to pattern the conduct of a child. He said that delinquency today was a challenge to society and that it was time a start was made for the redemption of wayward youth. "If for nothing else than to make a future as for building a better type of citizen."

He commended the Optimists for their progressive work in assisting young boys and keeping them on the straight path. He said if it were not for foster homes the world would have a much larger record of crimes and a larger number of criminals. Judge Willis stated that 86 per cent of delinquents came from broken homes.

Alberta Is Seeking Surplus Buildings

Asked for comment Thursday on Lethbridge reports that negotiations are proceeding between War Assets Corporation and the provincial government in connection with federal government lands and buildings in Alberta, Premier Ernest Manning said, "Discussions are going on with respect to such military surplus buildings as are declared surplus by War Assets Corporation."

THE PLAY IS CARRIED OUT in pantomime style, such as opening a door when there is no door there and sitting on the top of a step ladder for the purpose of being up stairs. Persons spotted among the audience also had small parts.

One of the more unique scenes during the drama is a wedding. The father leads his daughter down the aisle through the audience, up to the altar to be married.

Another well-acted scene takes place during the third and final act, in the form of a funeral. The drama is University High's year play and is under the direction of Miss Doris M. Sheppard.

The main parts are played by: Bill Hustler, Doris Hallett, Phyllis Vang, Jack Little, Donald Koger, Harrison Scott, Lorne Calhoun, Ruth Tye, Mary Lou Lister, David McDonald, Jack Green, Donald Matheson, J. M. Simpson, Beryl Bisset, Victor MacCormack, Don Campbell, Don Miller, Larry Dicks, Robert Bruce, Yvonne Menges, Joan Norvén, Kenneth Johnson and Gordon Robertson.

Others include: Helen Berry, Florence Boyer, Bev. Brooker, Norah Day, Betty Donald, Ruth Gaud, Rosemary Gerhart, Beverly Joan Johnston, Dorothy Livingstone, Marguerite MacCormack, Margaret MacKay, Helen MacLean, Jack MacIntosh, Marguerite Manning, Yvonne Menges, Harold Morrison, Joan Murray, Betty Newton, Thelma Vango, Barbara Wyatt, Rina Yagoda.

Earl Buxton is business manager of the production, and music during the intermission is supplied by the school orchestra under leadership of Miss Miriam L. Bowman.

Science Assn. Has Annual Meeting

The Science Association of the University of Alberta held its annual exhibits meeting Thursday in the Medical building. Premier Ernest Manning and cabinet members were distinguished guests. Professor R. Harty was chairman.

THE number at this meeting was limited owing to the congestion at the university this year.

STAFF MEMBERS, graduate and honor students are members of the association. Meetings are held for the purpose of discussion and interchange of ideas on scientific problems under research on the campus.

Thursday's meeting featured brief scientific addresses supplemented with slides, graphs and displays.

British Women Mobilized Non-Priority Sale

(Reuters)—When a store in this Kent county town just east of London advertised a sale of household goods and carpets without priority tickets women began forming a queue at 4 a.m. yesterday and by 9 a.m. there were about 2,000 in the lineup. Police were called in when the queues blocked traffic and arrested, shoving and hounded each other around. They were admitted a few at a time when the doors opened at 10 a.m. but many went home empty-handed.

He said that 188 of the 238 huts converted from material shipped from Dawson Creek, B.C., have been completed and are occupied, but the 50 huts, although ready for occupancy, cannot be rented until heaters will be available in a short time, Mr. Dewar stated.

Social Credit Chair At U of A Is Urged

The Social Credit movement lacks a general staff, commonest of strategy," according to representatives being made to Social Credit members of the Legislature urging that a new chair be established at the University of Alberta, to be known as the "Chair of Social Credit," which would establish a "degree or recognized qualifications" as a counter to that of ecobolism.

MEMBERS OF THE Alberta House have received copies of a memorandum said to be receiving general circulation among Social Credit followers and committee from A. H. Jukes, defeated Social Credit candidate in Calgary West. It is entitled "Suggestions to Social Creditors in Canada."

Truman Is Willing Renew Food Ration

WASHINGTON, March 22.—(AP)—President Truman yesterday expressed the hope that a return to wartime food rationing in the United States would not be necessary. But he said he would not object to a return should it become essential. He made these observations in response to questions which followed a reference to the plan for famine relief abroad.

Plan Signals Unit For Reserve Army

The technical staff of Edmonton's amateur radio station operator and wireless experts will be participating with the establishment of a new Reserve Army signals unit to provide an up-to-the-minute communications network designed to bolster reserve military strength in this city, it plans currently under consideration.

H. C. L. GILMAN, commanding officer of the 13th Division Signals from 1925 to 1934 and in the recent war brigade major for the Prince Rupert defence, revealed Friday that on request of the district officer commanding, MD 32, he is heading a committee which is attempting to implement "re-amping" of the local signals setup.

Mr. Gilman said the 13th Division Signals will be disbanded as a unit in its place will be two new organizations which will work with the recently-formed 16th Armoured Car Regiment (Fuzillers) and a heavy attack unit now under formation.

No. 28 Armoured Brigade Signal Section, consisting of approximately three officers and 100 other ranks, and equipped with some of the latest developments in wireless engineering, will focus its activities on the armored car unit.

"I made a mistake about the date," Goering continued.

Nuernberg, March 22.—(Reuters)—The case for the defence of Rudolph Hess, Hitler's former deputy, opened here today on the conclusion of that against Hermann Goering, one-time Luftwaffe chief, Dr. Alfred Seidel, counsel for Hess, said his client denied the jurisdiction of the International Military Tribunal trying the Nazis said that Hess assumed full responsibility for all decisions which he sent out in his capacity as deputy fuhrer.

Lord Justice Sir Geoffrey Lawrence said: "You cannot challenge the jurisdiction of this court."

THE JURY ACKNOWLEDGED Room Signals Section, with one officer and about 54 other ranks will provide internal communications for the A-A unit. The section will be equipped with ordinary line equipment, such as telephones and exchanges.

Headquarters of the new organization will be at the Prince of Wales Army.

Mr. Gilman stated that selection of commanding officers for the units would be made later.

Woman Is Given Penitentiary Term

"You have been convicted of very serious offence carrying with it life imprisonment, and if it were not that you are a citizen person, I would impose a much heavier sentence," Mr. Justice Hugh John Macdonald stated as he sentenced Mrs. Letha Hayes, North Edmonton resident, to serve two years and six months in Kingston penitentiary on charges of manslaughter and performing an illegal operation.

The manslaughter charge was against Mrs. Hayes following the death in an Edmonton hospital of a girl suffering from the after effects of an illegal operation.

Convicted Thief Gets Prison Term

Wilfrid Wilson, Normandeau district resident, who was found guilty in supreme court Thursday by Mr. Justice Hugh John Macdonald on charges of stealing a $30 postal money order, and with uttering it, was sentenced to serve 12 months at Fort Saskatchewan jail on each charge, the sentences to run concurrently.

PASSING SENTENCE, Mr. Justice Macdonald said the accused had been convicted on a previous occasion of similar offences, and did not appear to have learned his lesson.

The jurist complimented C. E. Edwards on his able defence of the accused. He said that Mr. Edwards had been appointed by the court to defend the accused, and that he had a very short time to prepare his defence. Mr. Edwards was released recently from the armed forces.

Building's Future Is Still in Doubt

Disposition of the UNO building immediately north of the court house is still in doubt, according to Mayor Harry Ainlay.

He said the building is still under United States control although it was understood that the structure was to have been released to the Canadian authorities early in March.

The department of veterans' affairs vocational training branch is seeking the building for use as a vocational training centre, and by the Dominion authorities as a vocational training centre during the war period.

Major Ainlay said Friday that negotiations are being carried on with Dominion and American officials relative to a joint use of the building by the city as a recreational centre during evening hours.
